

Kevin Armstrong is a 23 year veteran of the repossession and collections industry and currently serving as the Vice President of Credit Services for a large credit union in northern California. Having spent 7 years in repossessions and 16 years in bank and credit union collections, he created CUCollector.com initially as a forum and resource for credit union and bank collections news. With a wealth of repossession industry news, the site quickly developed as a repossession and news forum read by thousands of repossessors, bank and credit union collector nationwide.

Thank you,

Kevin Armstrong
