John Michel of Web Weaver USA has been involved in the repossession industry for over 60 years. He is directly responsible for providing professional repossession websites, search engine optimization and email services to his clients for over the past 20 years. John began working with Allied Finance Adjusters as the Web Master when there were only 12 members. Ever since there has been a commercial internet, the repossession industry has had a presence through Web Weaver USA, Inc. which is totally dedicated to our industry. Every major and regional repossession association website in the United States is either managed by John, or was at one time, along with hundreds of individual repossession companies nationwide.

During the past 5 years John has been a major player of the growth of the AFA website functionality and database management. John is also responsible for the new off the charts Allied Finance Adjusters mobile app. There is nothing he cannot do! We thank John for taking Allied into the future, always keeping in mind it is about the lenders needs and how to reach that goal the quickest and simplest way. Allied Finance Adjusters has honored John with the "Allied behind the Scenes" and "Allied Humanitarian" Awards.

John also donates his time, talent and resources pro bono to causes that benefit the repossession industry as witnessed in websites such as: The Recovery Agents Benefit Fund and The Council of Repossession Professionals. John also serves as the Chairman of the RABF Advisory Committee.

Lenders, Members and Vendors if you need anything from a company logo to a full blown website, John is your man! The AFA Website is hands down the most innovated, high tech, professional and state of the art repossession trade association website in the nation. Compare it for yourself; take it for a test drive today! www.AFArepo.com
